SELF-GOVERNMENT IN GERMANY URGED

Rain Saves City From Water Crisis

Reservoir Supply Drops

Crops Helped By Showers

Nearly a half inch of rain over the week end helped to stall off another Mansfield water crisis and was worth thousands of dollars to farmers and gardeners.

Waterworks Supt. O. C. Kalbfleisch said lawn sprinkling and garden watering had reached a stage in the city where it was going to be necessary to cut the flow of water to homes.

The water level in Woodland reservoir fell to a dangerous 11 feet Friday night and failed to rise Saturday, Kalbfleisch said. level usually drops at the of the week but climbs as tries ease off their operas over the week end, he added.

"The only thing that saved us this week end was the rain that fell Saturday and Sunday. At the rate things were going, with the level dropping about two feet each week, it wouldn't have been long before the reservoir was dry," he said. The city is consuming approximately 6,500,000 gallons daily.

CUT THREATENED

He said the department was going to keep its eye on homes where the sprinklers are used to excess and are allowed to run all day. He warned that if consumption is not cut, the curb boxes would be adjusted to permit enough water for cooking and bathing to flow into the home, but not enough pressure to permit sprinkling.

The weatherman had good news today for thirsty farm crops, vegetable gardens and parched lawns. He predicted showers for today, tonight and tomorrow morning. Most of Ohio was given a good drenching yesterday after a 20-day drought, Mansfield reporting .35 of an inch. The city got .14 of an inch Friday night.

County Agent George B. Ganyard reported that yesterday's rain would be of aid to new seedings and the strawberry crop.

Five inches of rain fell in parts of Indiana yesterday, derailing a freight train and inundating farm homes.

Segregation Voted Down

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The senate, pressing toward action on draft legislation, voted down today a proposal to forbid race segregation in the armed services.

The vote was not a direct test on how the senate feels. Senate leaders were confronted with the prospect of a filibuster from southerners if the proposal was not sidetracked.

The vote was the first test on a set of seven amendments by Senator Langer (R-ND) covering most of President Truman's "civil rights" measures such as anti-lunch, anti-poll tax and anti-segregation.

Some senators who favor the civil rights program opposed Langer's amendments. They said that the military manpower bill is not the place to fight out such issues.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) said civil rights legislation should "stand on its own feet" and not be hooked on to the draft bill.

The roll call vote on a motion to table Langer's amendment was 67 to 7.

Truman Tour Fails To Please

(Compiled From Wire Services)

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN —President Truman, touring the west aboard his special train, carried his campaign into Idaho today, leaving behind a split in Nebraska's delegation to the Democratic national convention.

As the president's train rolled through the mountain country, among snow-capped peaks toward Sun Valley, his advisers had two points for concern:

1—They sought to strengthen their advance planning to assure maximum crowds for his appearances.

2—They sought to weigh the effect of a statement by William Ritchie, chairman of the Nebraska state Democratic central committee, that he would not support Mr. Truman at the Philadelphia convention.

"After Mr. Truman's visit here Saturday, I am convinced he is not the man this year," Ritchie said at Omaha.

Ritchie, an Omaha attorney and a delegate to the national convention, said he would vote for some other candidate, "possibly a Jeffersonian Democrat."

OTHERS MAY FOLLOW

Ritchie said he was speaking only for himself but, he added, "I'm quite sure other members of the (Nebraska) delegation at the national convention may see things my way."

The Nebraska delegation is not bound to vote as a unit.

Ritchie indicated he bolted the Truman bandwagon because of the president's choice of advisers. "The president seems to lack the ability to choose wire advisers," he said.

During his visit in Omaha Saturday the president spent much of his time with Edward McKim, R., a World War I buddy and an administrative adviser to Mr. Truman immediately after he took office. It has been known for some time that Ritchie and McKim have been in dispute over party affairs.

LOCAL CHIEFS BLAMED

The president's aid attributed the size of Saturday night's crowd of only 2,000 in Omaha's 10,000-seat Ak-Sar-Ben coliseum on failure of a local arrangements committee to give full notice that the general public was invited.

This explanation also was offered by the coliseum manager, J. J. Isaacson, at the time of Mr. Truman's arrival for his farm policy speech. The address was under auspices of the 85th division, but not limited to its members.

Thousands of westerners greeted the president in a series of platform appearances yesterday and upwards of 5,000 saw him at Cheyenne, Wyo., where he spoke last night from the steps of the executive mansion with Democratic Governors Lester Hunt of Wyoming and Lee Knous of Colorado.

Army Joins Flood Fight

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—The Army today threw a fresh engineering field command against the raging Columbia river. It was a desperate attempt to hold the weakening 100-mile dike front from Portland to the Pacific.

Twenty-six officers of the Army Engineer corps rushed to critical points in the heavily barricaded lower valley as the great river built up pressure with its second flood wave in a week.

The reinforcements, headed by five lieutenant colonels, faced the huge task of striving to prevent expansion of the flood toll by the Columbia and Fraser rivers in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Canada's British Columbia. The flood toll already is 26 dead, 52 missing, about 60,000 homeless, damage of perhaps $140,000,000.

Thermometers soared to seasonal highs throughout the northwest Sunday — 90 degrees and above in the mountains where the snowpack melted fast and streamed down to add new waters to tributaries of the Columbia.

Senior High Boy, Madison Girl Winners Of News Journal-Erie Trip to New York

EMILY CAMPBELL

HAROLD LEIENDECKER

A Mansfield High senior boy and a girl just graduated from Madison High school, will have an all-expense New York tour this summer as guests of the Mansfield News-Journal and the Erie railroad.

The two, winners in the "Men of Erie" essay contest, are Emily Campbell, 18, Madison High graduate, and Harold Leiendecker, 15, who will be a member of the Mansfield High senior cvlass next September.

Their trip was won on the 1,000-word essays they wrote based on the serialization of the book, "Men of Erie," published in the News-Journal last month. The winners were chosen by a committee of judges comprised of Mansfield Senior High Principal Glenn G. Rohleder and Mrs. Rex W. Gilbert, Mansfield High English teacher.

Harold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Leiendecker, 50 South Main street, and Emily is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace V. Campbell, State Route 39, SE.

The two contest winners will leave Mansfield July 10 in a Pullman car on one of the Erie's fast diesel-powered passenger trains and will be in New York for breakfast on Sunday morning, July 11. They will be a part of a company of some 40 winners in similar contests in other cities along Erie's route through Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York state.

In New York they will be guests at the 2,000-room Hotel Taft, will attend Sunday services in one of New York's famous churches or cathedrals, go on a Sunday sightseeing tour of the city by bus and a trip around New York harbor in a yacht. In the evening they will dine at the Taft and then have another sight-seeing tour in the evening, including Chinatown and other points of interest.

FULL PROGRAM

Monday they'll visit Radio City, universities, museums, etc., and their program will include an evening at the theater and a special program for Tuesday. They will be back in Mansfield on Wednesday, July 14. Chaperons and guides for the trip will be supplied by the railroad.

Emily was selected by Madison teachers as the outstanding girl graduate of 1948 at that school on the basis of scholarship, athletics and leadership. She was editor of the school's monthly student publication.

Harold was jubilant today at receipt of the word of his success and good fortune and is looking forward to the trip. Emily will be surprised when she sees this story on her return home tomorrow. She was out of town today.

Benes Quits As President

64-Year-Old Czech Leader Resigns

PRAGUE—(AP)—President Eduard Benes resigned today. Premier Klement Gottwald's office announced that the resignation of the 64-year-old president was accepted at a special cabinet meeting.

Benes was elected to a seven-year term in 1946. He resigned once before—in 1938 after the Munich conference brought the German invasion—but reassumed the presidency in London, July 21, 1940. He first became president in December, 1935, after Thomas G. Masaryk resigned because of age and illness. Benes had been Masaryk's foreign minister 17 years and helped him found the Czechoslovak republic.

BENES

Three months ago Masaryk's son Jan, Benes's foreign minister, was found dead—a suicide, the communist government said. That followed the communist coup in February which sharply reduced Benes's powers. Masaryk resigned rather than accept the "people's democracy constitution" which the communists put forward. He disagreed with its provisions and disapproved of the single ticket parliamentary elections which the communist regime held eight days ago.

The first announcement of Eduard Benes's resignation said only that a communique would be issued later.

(International News Service said the letter explained Benes was resigning on advice of physicians.)

Bride, 17, Held As Runaway

WICHITA, Kas.—(AP)—A 17-year-old girl and a married salesman, charged with kidnaping her, were in police custody today.

The salesman, Arthur Deets, jr., 23, of Kingston, Pa., is the father of two children. The girl, Mrs. Mary Kalinoski, York, Pa., is a bride of less than two months.

Police said they ran away May 28 shortly before the girl's high school graduation. They were arrested here yesterday.

Mrs. Kalinoski told officers she left willingly with Deets.

"We know we love each other," Deets said.

Meat Prices Skyrocket

City Shoppers Paying Dollar-a-Pound for Steak

Mansfield housewives were paying as much as a dollar a pound for steak today as meat prizes zoomed to one of the highest marks in the city's history.

Prices of most other meats were correspondingly high. Week-end prices of beef roasts were up to 70 cents a pound and lamb prices shot upward.

A shortage of cattle was given by Mansfield meat dealers as the reason for the sudden upsurge in meat prices.

"Cattle are being killed too young because of the high prices," one dealer said.

Most dealers reported beef up an average of three cents per pounds. Pork is the only meat that didn't show a sharp increase. That's because pork is plentiful a dealer said.

Dealers said today they could only guess what the next week end would bring.

RESISTANCE REPORTED

"I'd say that prices are about ready to level off—there's too much buyer rsistance," one dealer said. "While our dollar volume sale hasn't declined, our margin is less. We are not selling the meat we did."

Another dealer said that smoked meat prices were about leveled off.

"I don't think there's the splurging in meat buying as there has been," he said. "The demand is not as high, packing houses are not killing as much cattle and it looks to me as if surely there would be a leveling of prices. But we never know. Anything is liable to happen."

GOP Congressman From Illinois Dies

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Rep. Thomas L. Owens (R-Ill.) died early today at the Naval hospital in nearby Bethesda, Md., of a heart condition.

The 50-year-old Chicago Republican, serving his first term in Congress, was admitted to the hospital several weeks ago.

Owens is survived by his wife, and three children, Charles, Colleen, and Carol.

Alvis Named Prison Head

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The appointment of Ralph W. Alvis as warden of the Ohio penitentiary was announced today by State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood.

Alvis has been the acting warden since Feb. 23, when Frank D. Henderson resigned under pressure after serving eight and a half years as warden.

Laxity in the prison's administration was said to have brought a demand from Sherwood for Henderson's resignation. Failing health, however, was given as the official reason for his resignation.

Alvis has been on leave of absence as assistant superintendent of the London prison farm.

China Called Key to Asia

OXFORD—(AP)—China's ambassador to the United States pleaded today for a stronger bond between his country and the western hemisphere to stem the spread of communism.

K. Wellington Koo, addressing Miami university's 109th annual commencement, said China "holds the key to the vast continent of Asia with its practically inexhaustible reservoir of manpower, raw materials and mineral resources."

He added that "if China falls a victim to communism and becomes a communist state, there can be no doubt that the whole of Asia will follow suit.

Lewis Hot With Words

Resumes Talks Under Protest

WASHINGTON— (AP) —John L. Lewis opened soft coal contract talks today—with a blast of denunciation at the operators.

He called them "fat cats . . . magnificently opulent . . . digging deep and without restraint into the national purse."

He made two points clear about any agreement replacing the contract expiring June 30:

1. The United Mine Workers have no wage proposals, but they "expect improvements."

2. They want guarantees under the 1947 miners' welfare fund which has paid out nothing because it is tied up in a legal dispute.

He put the next move up to the operators. The miners will consider any offer "which you may persuade yourselves to utter," Lewis said.

This was in a statement with which Lewis opened the negotiations.

He scornfully told the operators they had reduced collective bargaining "to mockery."

Lewis said he and his union attended the court-ordered bargaining conference "only through duress."

He was directed to negotiate with the Southern Coal Producers association by Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, against his will and under injunction.

Goldsborough acted under the Taft-Hartley act which Lewis called "the first major thrust of Fascist tyranny in the republic."

Ohio to Get More Gas

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Texas Gas Transmission corporation has disclosed plans to move 275,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily into Appalachian and eastern states "to bring substantial relief to areas that have been hard hit by industrial shutdowns and unemployment and to help relieve domestic gas shortages."

Texas Eastern will transmit 210,000,000 of this amount to the Ohio Fuel company and the Manufacturers Light and Heat company.

King Mihai, Anne to Wed Thursday

ATHENS — (AP) — Ex-king Mihai of Romania and Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma arrived in Athens today and an announcement from the royal palace said they would be married here Thursday.

The Greek airforce band played the Romanian national anthem as Mihai and his bride-to-be stepped off a plane from Geneva into the embraces of King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece and of Queen Helen, Mihai's mother.

The palace announcement said the wedding ceremony Thursday will be performed by Archbishop Damaskinos of the Greek Orthodox church at noon (5 a. m., EST).

Palestine Peace Still In Offing

Count Gives Proposal To Six Arab Nations

CAIRO—(AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte handed to six Arab nations today his proposal for a starting time and conditions of the four-week armistice in Palestine.

Peace appeared unlikely during this week, however. Palace sources in Amman, Trans-Jordan, said the Arab league political committee will not meet before Saturday. It is the kingpin of the Arab effort in the Holy Land.

Fighting continued. The Jews claimed successes south of Tel Aviv, and to the northeast around the Arabs' Tulkarm-Jenin-Nablus triangle. The Syrian army became active on the north border of Palestine and the Saudi Arabians were declared to have placed a considerable force with tanks and armor in Palestine alongside the Egyptians.

Bernadotte, mediator for the United Nations, has been empowered to fix the starting time of the truce, to which both sides have agreed. The Arabs, however, affixed "explanations" and the Jews "assumptions."

It was the count's task to reconcile the differences, particularly over Jewish insistence and Arab objections to unlimited immigration to Israel during the truce and opening of the road to the 90,000 besieged Jews in Jerusalem.

Fiery Comet Shows Light Across Ohio

CLEVELAND—(AP)—A fiery comet, which "looks as bright as the north star," has flashed into view in the sky over Cleveland, reports a Case Tech astronomer.

Dr. J. J. Nassau, director of the Case Tech observatory, said the comet made its Cleveland debut at dawn yesterday, trailing a mammoth tail estimated at "many millions of miles in length."

Reporting that the brilliant body was believed to be the discovery of an amateur Japanese astronomer named Honda, Dr. Nassau said he had snapped probably the first photographs of the spectacular phenomenon.

However, the comet is visible to the naked eye, he continued, and "looks as bright as the north star, although it is not as easily observed because its light is diffused and because it is near the horizon."

The comet photographed by Dr. Nassau also was reported seen in the southern part of Ohio by residents of Dayton and Cincinnati.

Auto Workers Back On Job

DETROIT —(INS)— The 75,000 production employes of the Chrysler corporation began streaming back into the company's 16 plants today for the first time since the start of the 17-day Chrysler strike May 12.

At the same time the Ford Motor company staged a one-day layoff of 20,000 workers because of a parts shortage. Departments affected include passenger car assembly lines and some manufacturing operations at the Ford Rouge plant in Dearborn.

Chrysler officials predicted it would be several days before the giant corporation regains full scale production.

U. S. Joins 5 Nations In Plan

Russia Told Troops Remain

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The United States and five other friendly powers today revealed plans for self-government in western Germany, but served notice on Russia that occupation troops will remain there "until the peace of Europe is secured."

A communique issued jointly by the six powers again blamed Soviet policies for the partition of Germany, but held the door open to eventual Russian participation in the western plan for general unification of the former enemy state.

The communique covered the recommendations made at the recent London conference by representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands. It was released simultaneously in capitals of the six nations.

INTERNATIONALIZED RUHR

Among other things, the representatives of the six countries called for internationalization of the Ruhr and for steps toward convening a German constituent assembly in the three western zones "to prepare a constitution for approval of the participating states."

But, the communique added significantly:

"The United States, United Kingdom and French delegates reiterated the firm views of their governments that there could not be any general withdrawal of their forces from Germany until the peace of Europe is secured without prior consultation."

A copy of the 1,500-word communique was sent by French authorities this morning to the Russian military governor in Berlin, Marshal V. Sokolovsky.

POINTS OF AGREEMENT

The far-reaching plan for political and economic union of western Germany still is subject to formal approval of the six governments. The U. S. state department already has expressed its general approval. Congressional action is not necessary.

The agreement also:

1. Affirmed that "Germany must not again be permitted to become an aggressive power."

2. Recommended a rigid system of inspection to keep watch on German military activity.

3. Said the London agreement "should facilitate eventual four-power agreement" with Russia on unification of Germany.

4. Predicted that the measures recommended would mark an important step in the reconstruction of western Europe, "and establishment of a basis for the participation of a Democratic Germany in the community of free peoples."

Patrol Post Adds 2 Men

Two recent graduates of the Columbus State Highway Patrol Training school have been added to Mansfield's patrol post, Cpl. J. L. Bishop, head of the post, announced today.

New post members are Patrolmen Charles Rice, 28, of 411 Scholl road, and R. C. Davis, 32, of Canton. Both are veterans of World War II. They will fill the positions left vacant by Ptl. W. H. Loftus of Warren who resigned from the patrol late in May, and Ptl. J. F. Miller who was transferred to the Massillon post June 1.

Rice, who has lived in the city for a short time, is an infantry veteran, having spent four and a half years in service. He is married. Davis, also an army veteran, is married and the father of a seven-year-old child.

The Mansfield post now has seven men.

Crushed By Truck Driven By Classmate

PORTSMOUTH — (UP) — Joseph K. Bennington, 15, Gephart, O., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennington, was crushed to death Sunday by a truck driven by a high school classmate, Raymond Belcher, 16 of South Webster. Bennington jumped out of the slowly moving truck to inspect its tires. He slipped and fell under a rear wheel.

Death Takes Noted Biology Professor

Moseley Based Forecasts On Nature's Encores

BOWLING GREEN — (AP) — Edwin Lincoln Moseley, whose remarkably-accurate long-range weather forecasts based on a theory that weather conditions are the same every 90.4 years, were familiar to many Mansfielders, died yesterday at 83.

Moseley, professor emeritus of biology at Bowling Green State university, believed he could forecast wet and dry weather with reasonable accuracy if he could establish the amount of rainfall 90.4 years previously.

His research was hampered by the fact that many sections of the country had no weather stations compiling records that far back. However, he turned to trees to confirm his theory.

Trees grow rapidly in wet periods and more slowly in time of drought. By measuring the width of tree rings, he felt, he could determine wet and dry conditions each year.

Moseley collected cross sections of about 300 trees in this section of the country. With this data, and that available from weather stations, he began issuing his long-range forecasts a dozen years ago.

His research was confined to a zone from western Pennsylvania to eastern Kansas.

He predicted the general drought conditions of 1946-47. His latest forecast—issued last January—said 1948 and 1949 will be "wet years," but 1950 will be "dry."

Moseley admittedly was far from through with his weather cycle research. He frequently said successful predictions on his research were limited through the restrictions facing him. But he felt his work would help future scientists in solving the problem.

Moseley, a native of Union City, Mich., was stricken with a heart ailment April 28 while visiting in Dayton and had been hospitalized since. He was taken to University hospital here May 10.

He was recognized as an authority on natural life in Ohio and the Lake Erie district, and many plants he discovered there were named for him.

He was a science teacher at Sandusky, O., high school from 1889 until 1914, when he joined the Bowling Green faculty. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Writer Denies Personal Motive In Revealing Wallace Facts

WASHINGTON—You might think that I had some personal motive in calling Henry Wallace to account, but it will one day be established that I am performing a public service in revealing this clown's true character. So far he has managed to duck the question whether he did or did not write the idiotic guru letters to Prof. Nicholas Roerich.

If we could get him under oath we would have him dead to rights because, waiving the question of these particular letters, I would confront him with proof that he once did admit that he wrote Roerich a great many personal letters in longhand which went through the forwarding office at the New York lamasery of the weird oriental cult and wrote one to Roerich's wife, who was known as "Mother" in the cult, which would make him appear "very foolish."

He said he could not remember just what he did write in that letter to "mother" but did know that he had put on paper some "idiotic things." Those were his own words in discussing it. Boy, I'll say he did.

Now whether Wallace was fool enough to have been completely taken in by Roerich's theatrical manner, or was himself guilty of promoting a crazy scheme to create a new nation of Siberia with Roerich as "head" of the state in a politico-spiritual role, we have to take our choice.

The evidence which I have seen and which Henry knows I have seen, shows that he was no more to be trusted with great public responsibility than a villiage idiot. That is why I say it was a shocking betrayal of the interests of the American people by Franklin D. Roosevelt to make this awful bubblehead vice president from 1940 to 1944. That was an outrage that the United States should never forgive Roosevelt.

It is useless to say that he didn't know the truth about Wallace. Those people were spying on one another all the time and the state department was fairly hissing with the story of Wallace's grass-seed mission to Asia under Roerich's command. Yet, Wallace was such a sap, and that kind of gullibility is incurable, that he may not have realized the meaning of Roerich's glib recognition of the Japanese conquest of Manchuria when our government was lambasting the Japs for unprovoked aggression and following a political and diplomatic line that led straight to Pearl Harbor.

Of course Wallace will not be elected President, but his juvenile credulity then is useful as an explanation of his present willingness to go to the country as Stalin's candidate for President.

He may doggedly refuse to discuss the goofy guru letters, but I will surround him with so much other evidence that he will never be able to break out.

A great heap of letters from Roerich to the headquarters of his cult in New York shows beyond question that he was having the time of his life at the expense of the department of agriculture and, ultimately, of the American taxpayers in the summer of 1934 and winter of 1935.

He was wined and dined by Japs and other orientals who were baffled by his status as emissary of the secretary of agriculture when our state department wouldn't even give him a letter to whom it may concern. He carried on a vein of reference to the state of "Kansas" which was a code word for the new nation of Siberia and he continually rasped against Howard G. MacMillan and James L. Stevens, the regular department botanists who refused to obey instructions from Roerich which would have put them in the position of "recognizing" the conquest of Manchuria.

Bus Strikes Hit 2 Ohio City Areas

East Liverpoolers, Springfieldites Walk

EAST LIVERPOOL—(AP)—Public transportation involving seven communities of this tri-state area was paralyzed today by a strike of bus drivers and garage employes.

Nine industrial firms in East Liverpool, however, reported there were few absentees and said share-the-ride plans worked out in advance had held absences to normal.

Bus strikes also were scheduled for today in Springfield and Lorain.

But in Lorain, the transportation system operated as usual this morning, as drivers and garagemen postponed their walkout.

In Springfield a strike of AFL bus drivers paralyzed public transportation Buses of City Bus Lines, Inc. were locked up at 4 a. m. after the AFL bus drivers union carried out the stoppage in support of pay increase demands.

Chester E. Baker, secretary and general manager of the bus company said the vehicles would be locked up until the strike is ended.

The union, which has some 137 members, said they received $1.06 an hour top scale until the strike was called. Wage increase demands were not announced.

W. B. Swaney, president of the East Liverpool local of the AFL-Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, announced at 2 a. m. that a walkout of 121 area AFL drivers and 80 garagemen employed by the Valley Motor Transit company had begun.

Interurban service was provided by Valley Motor from Steubenville, O., to Beaver, Pa., with local runs operated in Steubenville, East Liverpool and Wellsville, O.; Chester and Newell, W. Va., and Midland, Pa.

Lorain drivers and garagemen had demanded 30-cent pay hikes from the Employes Transit Lines, Inc., which serves Lorain locally and operates interurban runs to nearby Amherst. Drivers there receive current rates of $1.17 hourly.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Receiving congratulations today on his birthday anniversary, John H. Glasener smiled while working as usual at the Glasener company, general contractors and builders, which he founded nearly 30 years ago. He was honored by the Mansfield Kiwanis club a few years ago for having attended 1,000 consecutive meetings. He became a member of the club in 1924 and has been a resident of Mansfield for 44 years. Born in Mohicanville, he came to this city in 1904, and before starting his contracting firm he was active in the fields of manufacturing and real estate.

Glasener

He has been a member of the Masons and the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce for several years and his hobbies now include fishing and baseball. He will celebrate the occasion quietly tonight with Mrs. Glasener at their home at 489 Dirlam court.

LUCKY FIND—

Mrs. D. L. Garber began "looking over some four leaf clovers," in her garden at 91 Reba avenue the other day and found a seven-leaf clover. Four-leaf clovers are common finds and five-leaf clovers are almost as common, Mrs. Garber said. She has found several six-leaf specimens but the seven-leaf clover was the first. She framed a specimen of each of her finds and brought them to The News-Journal to prove her claim. "I don't know whether my ability to find more than three-leaf clovers has anything to do with it," Mrs. Garber said, "but I've always been pretty lucky, both in health and happiness."

More Due In Classes This Week

Weather Cuts Attendance

Rainy weather and rehearsals for the annual Marguerite Speas dance revue held down attendance for the opening day of Mansfield's Daily Vacation Bible schools to about 1,000, Mrs. Charles Ray, director, said today.

By 9 a. m. today hundreds of children reported at the 17 participating and four cooperating schools in the city to learn during the next two weeks how to grow up" in the right spiritual, physical and educational way. "Growing Up" is the theme for the beginners, primary and juniors, each group studying some phase of the theme.

The beginners, three and four-year-olds who have never been to school, began their study this morning of how "God Gives Us Ourselves." Through this topic, the little children will be taught that God gave them their bodies and that He expects them to take good care of themselves and grow into the kind of person Christ was when a child. Picture coloring, games and exercises will be used to teach the children.

The program for beginners is suggestive of that used for the older children. All phases will be taught through use of the Bible, hymns, play and various projects.

69 AT HEDGES

At Hedges school this morning, 69 pupils were starting their lessons. The atmosphere was quiet and studious, without any of the usual confusion that usually attends opening day of school.

"The atmosphere at Hedges was the same as that in all the other schools," Mrs. Ray said. "Everything has gone unusually well this year. By Wednesday, both attendance and programs should be settled well into the groove they expect to follow for the next two weeks.

"Although attendance this morning was not as high as we had expected, registrations are coming in all day and by Wednesday, we fully expect that at least 1,500 will take part in the Bible schools."

There have been two changes among the supervisors. Mrs. S. E. Taylor will assist Mrs. Irl Fisher as supervisor at the Park Avenue Baptist church and Mrs. George Reece has taken over as supervisor at Hedges school, replacing Mrs. Leroy Teeter who was unable to serve.

The schedule of other supervisors remains as first reported. They include, Miss Lucille Beattie, St. Matthew's Lutheran; Mrs. Glenn Miller, St. Paul Lutheran; Mrs. V. C. Stames, First Evangelical UB; Mrs. Gilbert Laser, Mayflower Congregational; Mrs. S. E. Dumping Brings Fine

Mansfielder Told To Clean Up Garbage

The second fine in three days was assessed today against a Mansfielder for dumping garbage along roads near the city.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson is cracking down on violators of the health laws, and officers are watching the roads for garbage dumpers.

Virgil Baker, 198 Sycamore street, today was fined $10 and $10.20 costs and ordered to clean up the garbage that he dumped on Hickory Lane. Clayton Parker, 41 Orchard street, paid a $10 fine for a similar offense Saturday.

Robert Abrams, 72 Glenwood boulevard, and John H. Swank, Butler, both charged with leaving the scene of an accident, were fined $100 and $50 and costs, respectively. Their drivers' licenses were suspended for six months for sideswiping parked cars and failing to stop.

Lloyd E. Strouse, Glenmont; Richard W. Taylor, Mansfield, R. D. 2, and Roger A. Costenmoyer, Mansfield, were found guilty of speeding. Strouse and Costenmoyer paid $10 and costs and Taylor paid $15 as a second offender.

Fined $5 and costs were Gwin Wilson, 905 Forest drive, for having an illegal warning device, and Robert G. Lance, Ashland, for operating a motor vehicle with license plates issued to another car.

Wilson was apprehended by the state patrol yesterday for sounding a "wolf whistle' while driving past the patrol headquarters.

He told the court today "I guess I just like to hear the noise."

Boys Accuse Diner In Loss of Their $5

Two Mansfield teen-agers worked hard to recover a $5 bill that "walked out" of a South Main street restaurant Sunday. Today, police were lending a hand.

Police said John McCausland, 15, of 178 Glessner avenue, ran to headquarters shortly after lunch to report that a $5 bill, which had dropped from his pocket in the Blair restaurant, 75 South Main street, was snatched up by another customer who walked out with the money.

At the same time, McCausland's companion, 14-year-old Gene Simmons, 283 Wood street, was giving the money-snatcher a chase through the business district. Simmons, however, said he lost the "tall, thin" man at South Franklin avenue and East First street.

Police said the two boys told them they were on their way to a movie and had stopped at the restaurant. As McCausland went to pay the check, the money dropped out of his pocket and was picked up by a man sitting next to them. Simmons described the man as unshaven, with brown hair and eyes and wearing "an old green coat."

Police Plan Auto Check

Preliminary to staging the annual summer traffic check, representatives of all police departments and highway patrol posts from the north-east section of the state will meet in Massillon tomorrow to organize the checkup.

The meeting will be held at the Massillon state patrol headquarters. Representatives from both Mansfield's police department and the highway patrol post are expected to attend.

The check, which will continue throughout July, is sponsored jointly by the Chiefs of Police association and the highway patrol. Cars will be checked for all defects which might cause accidents, including brakes, tires, lights, horns, and windshields. A 72-hour repair period will be granted all motorists found driving defective vehicles.

Mansfielders See Movie On Red Spy Ring

By NITA BRANSON

"The Iron Curtain," the movie that has been picketed by communist sympathizers in New York and other large cities, came to the Madison theater over the weekend.

It is a factual, realistic, brutally frank portrayal of Russian spy ring activities, based on the actual story of Igor Gouzenko, young Russian code clerk in Ottawa, Canada, who, rather than bring up his son in fear, exposed the Soviet espionage activities to the Canadian minister of justice.

Many will remember Gouzenko's story which ran serially in a popular magazine, and the subsequent trial of Canadian citizens, one of them a member of parliament, who were involved in the spy ring.

The picture will be an eye-opener for Americans who advocate a "go-easy" policy with Russia.

Dana Andrews as Gouzenko, Eduard Franz as Major Kulin and Berry Kroeger as John Grubb, give excellent portrayals. Gene Tierney as Anna Gouzenko's wife, and June Havos as the blond "menace" provide the feminine interest in the picture.

Warpathing Indians Scalp Athletics Twice

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—Ted Lyons, the old Sunday pitcher, and his Chicago White Sox were giving religion to the American league today.

The anemic Hose have been to the post exactly 40 times this season and have won only 12 games. But when they walloped Washington twice yesterday it was their sixth Sabbath triumph—meaning half of their victory total has come from Sunday games.

Making it more of a puzzle, Lyons is a graduate of a Baptist college—which probably frowns on playing baseball on Sunday, anyhow . . . they can excuse him. He's converting those sinners—fast.

IT'S BEGINNING to look like old times, in some spots. Particularly in Philadelphia, where the A's and the Phillies each dropped both ends of twin bills. The A's pennant hopes got the one-two from Cleveland and the Cardinals put it on the Phils.

Getting back to the Indians, it might seem slightly screwy but as of the moment Bob Feller is their sixth most effective pitcher in the percentages. Steve Gromek came up with his first starting win, which puts him in the 1.000 class with 2-0 Don Black. Gene Bearden has 5-1; Bob Muncrief 2-1; and Bob Lemon won his eighth against three losses. Feller has a 5-4 mark for .555, which is no better than sixth on the reputedly "thin" Indian hill corps.

THE WAY the pitchers have been hitting, Lefty Gomez is going to have to stop bragging about that .141 batting average he used to have. Johnny Sain knocked in the winning run as he tossed the Braves to a 1-0 conquest of the Cubs.

And Vic Raschi singled and scored the necessary Yankee run in a 3-0 win over the Browns, his second straight shutout. That gives him seven victories in a row. Remember, too, that "Muscles" singled and scored the run his last time out, beating Detroit 1-0.

That jackrabbit ball still is hopping over the fences with enthusiasm. There were 20 homers in the majors yesterday, 14 of them in the American league, and both loops had something to talk about.

★

THE CARDS up and belted four homers in one inning against the Phils. They were by "four-sack" Dusak, Red Schoendienst, Country Slaughter and Nippy Jones. Most amazing, however, is that they got Stan Musial out in between there somewhere. In the American league, the Red Sox clouted three in an inning, by Ted Williams, Stan Spence and Vern Stephens.

Ralph Kiner started running in the homer parade again with his 14th, a ninth-inning smash to give Pittsburgh a split with the Giants. That tied him with Ken Keltner, two back of Hank Sauer.

BUT IT REMAINED for Fred Sanford, Brownie pitcher, to retire the side on an error, in what amounted to getting his third out with a wild pitch.

With Bob Brown on second and Tommy Henrich on first, Sanford had two out and two strikes on Johnny Lindell. He threw a jughandled curve and Lindell struck out. But the curve broke far away from Catcher Les Moss and Lindell legged it safely to first. Moss pegged to first after retrieving the ball and, as Brown legged past third, the ball was whipped over there. The third baseman shot it to the catcher—who tagged Brown at the plate.

Complicated and puzzling? Yes! The real shock, though, is that it didn't happen in Brooklyn.

Jim Demaret Wins $2,000

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (UP) — Jimmy Demaret headed toward Los Angeles and the national open golf tournament today after pocketing $2,000 first prize money in the second annual Albuquerque open.

The Ojai, Cal. professional won the tourney, going away with a record-tying 20-under-par 268 for the 72-hole distance. He carded a five-under-par 67 yesterday to edge out Stewart ("Skin") Alexander, Lexington, N. C., who shot a brilliant 65 in the final round.

Alexander tying this year's low round score established by Demaret the opening day, moved from sixth place to knock down $1,400 with a four-round total of 272. E. J. Harrison of Little Rock, Ark., shot a 69 to take third-place money of $3,000 with a total of 275 blows.

Gromek Gets Win In 2nd Game, 11-1

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) The slugging Cleveland Indians confidently expected to pull farther away from the field tonight when they meet the Philadelphia Athletics in the final game of their four-game series.

The Tribesmen made it three straight over the wilting A's yesterday by taking both ends of a doubleheader, 5-3 and 11-1. The victories extended the Indians' league-lead to 2½ games over the Mackmen.

Bob Lemon chucked the first game, receiving credit for his eighth victory, and Stev Gromek hit the comeback trail by limiting the A's to six hits in the nightcap as his mates blasted Dick Fowler and Bob Savage for 16 bingles.

FOURTH STRAIGHT

By sweeping the doubleheader before 37,900 fans in Shibe park in Philadelphia, the Tribe chalked up its fourth consecutive victory on this eastern tour. They still hold a three-game edge over the New York Yankees, who also took a doubleheader from St. Louis.

In the first contest, Lemon contributed to his own cause by driving in two runs with a double and a single. Manager Lou Boudreau broke a 3-3 tie in the sixth inning by smashing his fifth home run of the season into the left field stands.

Lemon drove in Jim Hegan, who had walked, in the third inning for the first run. Mitchell grounded out, advancing Lemon to second, and the Indians' ace hurler scored on a single by Hank Edwards.

The Tribe made it 3-0 in the fourth when Eddie Robinson singled, Walt Judnich doubled and Joe Gordon hit a long fly.

TIE UP CONTEST

The A's tied it up in the bottom half of the fourth on five hits, including Hank Majeski's sixth home run with Ferris Fain on base.

Cleveland's final marker came in the seventh inning when Hegan, the lead-off man, blasted a triple to the 405-foot mark in left center field and Lemon singled him home. Lemon was out trying to stretch his hit to a double.

By virtue of his fine performance in the second game, Gromek, who was making his first start of the season, regained a starter's role on the Tribe's overworked mound staff. The victory was the first game Gromek had completed since 1946.

According to Boudreau, the Hamtramck, Mich., righthander probably will start one of the the games with the Boston Red Sox this week.

TIPTON GETS FIVE

In the nightcap massacre, Catcher Joe Tipton, making a strong bid for a first-string position, collected five hits in as many times at bat—three singles and two doubles—which gives him eight consecutive hits, four short of the major league mark.

Sharing hitting honors with the Georgia rookie was Dale Mitchell, who banged out three singles and a double in six times at the plate, and drove in five runs, only two less than he batted in during 26 games last year.

Ken Keltner and Robinson produced the big blows in the second contest. Keltner put the Tribe in the lead, 2-1, in the fourth inning when he blasted his 14th round-tripper of the season into the left field stands with Judnich on base.

ROBINSON HOMERS

Robinson's four-bagger came in the five-run eighth inning with Boudreau on base.

After a first inning homer by Eddie Joost, the leadoff man, Gromek did not permit another Philadelphia player to reach third base. Four of the remaining five hits garnered off Gromek were either ground balls that couldn't be reached or pop flies that fell between the outfielders.

Gromek had less trouble retiring the A's than did Lemon, who now has more victories than any other major league hurler. Lemon has lost only three.

The Indians meet the A's in the fourth and final game of their series tonight with Bob Feller slated to oppose Lou Brissie. Feller will be seeking his sixth victory against four defeats.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

BATTING—Red Schoendienst, Cardinals—Blasted five doubles and a home run to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a double victory over the Philadelphia Phillies 11-1 and 2-0. He also hit three doubles Saturday to give him eight two-baggers in two days.

Wet Weather Halts Games Yesterday

Rain called an unscheduled halt to all baseball and softball games in the area yesterday, although one game went the necessary five innings.

New London defeated Plymouth, 5-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Thorne Cassel. Cassel struck out nine men in the five frames. Junior Cassel led the New London attack with two singles and a triple in three trips to the plate.

Rain halted the Grays-Cleveland Black Sox game in the top of the fourth inning with Mansfield ahead, 1-0. The Grays scored their only tally in the bottom of the third inning when Dubby Lockhart walked, went to third on Shelly Swank's double and came home when the Cleveland shortstop booted Kenny Funk's grounder.

MAKES FIRST START

Jack Hammett, making his first start for the Grays, allowed one hit and struck out six men in the abbreviated affair.

Galion was leading the Mansfield Legion, 3-0, in the top half of the fifth when that game was halted. Dutch Bader was pitching for Mansfield.

T and E Tavern held a 1-0 lead at Ontario when the game was stopped in the fourth inning, while a softball game at Prospect park was also called in the fourth with Penn Auto and Sporting Goods leading Ashland Gault Cleaners by a 2-1 count.

The Taverns will travel to Cardington tomorrow night to meet the tough Cardington Merchants at 8:30 p. m.

Ohio Sport Center and Tappan Stove were rained out of their preliminary game at Blue Goose field in the fourth inning.

Leesville, washed out with the Shiloh Legion yesterday, will play the Cleveland White Sox at Leesville next Sunday.

The Shelby Blues were rained out of their game with Centerburg yesterday. Friday the Blues will be host to Celeryville.

Racing Driver Suffers Injury

MILWAUKEE — (UP) — Racing Driver Duke Dinsmore, Osborne, O., was in critical condition today after suffering multiple fractures in the 100-mile AAA dirt track championship here Sunday.

Dinsmore suffered a possible fractured skull, right arm, and left shoulder when he cracked up in the seventh lap of the race. Rex Mays, Glendale, Cal., crashed into the railing at State Fairpark, but was uninjured.

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The anticipated $500 match race between Eddie Haddad of Los Angeles and Ralph Pratt, mid-western midget auto racing champ, failed to materialize yesterday at suburban Bedford's Sportsman park. Rain washed out the "doodle bud" card for the fifth time this season.

Competition Slated In Five Sports.

CANTON—Competition in five sports was scheduled yesterday in the final spring meeting of the seven-team Northern Ohio Athletic conference here yesterday.

A basketball carnival was scheduled for Dec. 28, 29 and 30, 1949, at Massillon. Each of the competing teams will get a share of the profits at the carnival.

The spring sport festival will be held at the Fawcett stadium in Canton in 1950. Teams will battle in track, baseball, golf and tennis. The festival will be held the week after the state track meet.

FOUR GRID GAMES

The conference will open in 1949 when each of the schools must play four league football games. Each school will be required to play five loop contests in 1950.

Athletic Director Augie Morningstar, Faculty Manager Fred Staub and Ticket Manager George Sherman represented Mansfield at the meeting. Morningstar is league president.

All of the competing schools except Canton McKinley was represented.

Reds Sign Youth

CINCINNATI — (AP) — A Cincinnati Reds farm club signed Harold (Corky) Valentine, 18-year-old Troy, O., pitcher, yesterday. Valentine, who was graduated from high school last month, will join the Sunbury, Pa., club in the interstate league.

Graziano and Zale Battle Wednesday

By LAWTON CARVER, INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(INS)—The moment when either Rocky Graziano or Tony Zale will be slapped into cuckoo-land draws nigh.

They tangle Wednesday night for Graziano's middleweight title in a 15-rounder at Newark, N. J., and it seems like a lead-pipe cinch that one of them must be carted off of the premises feet first.

That's the way they finished two previous encounters. Nothing has happened since their second clash to indicate that this encore will be any different.

By virtue of an eight-year pull on the scales of time, Graziano, the rough customer from downtown New York, will be favored to make it two in a row over the dead game veteran from Gary, Ind.

SIX ROUNDS

Zale won their first clash two years ago, but Graziano and age caught up with him in the second start last summer. The 26-year-old New Yorker took the title from the then champion who now is 34, in six rounds, or in exactly the same length of time that he had lasted in their previous clash.

Francis Albertanti, one of the wisest and most beloved of boxing publicists, reached into his store of wisdom today and came up with some observations on this proposition.

He is of the opinion that somebody positively will be knocked out and quickly.

He said:

"If it goes more than three or four rounds it will surprise me. If it goes more than six it will be like an honest wrestling match, but whatever may happen these two guys should never fight again. If they keep it up one or both of them will windup in the booby-hatch."

The fight will be the first for the middleweight title ever held in New Jersey, although that state produced none other than the one and only Mickey Walker.

The customers have shown a keen interest in the show from the outset because of the two thrillers put on by Graziano and Zale in their previous meetings and a gate of some $350,000 is expected.

Pair of Rifle Matches Fired

Two matches were fired yesterday mroning in the YMCA Rifle club shoot at Mt. Gilead, but rain halted the entire afternoon program.

Ralph Harbaugh won the 50-yard any-sight shoot with a 200-199—399 score while Beverly Phallen was second with 197-198—395. She had 24 X's to 20 for Duke Hassinger who fired 195-200—395.

Don White of Prospect won the Dewar any-sight with a 200-187—397 score. Duke Hassinger was second with 198-196—394 and Ralph Harbaugh third with 199-193—392.

Can Citation Go Distance At Belmont?

NEW YORK—(UP)—Only the question of whether he can go the mile and a half distance stood between Citation and the triple crown today as the Calumet comet marked time before Saturday's running of the Belmont stakes.

There were few along the rail who nursed any doubts about how 1948's wonder horse would fare in the 80th running of this $100,000-added classic come the week's end. They figured him an even greater cinch than when he breezed to pushover victories in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Too, he has raced at Belmont twice and won both times—first the Futurity trial and then the Futurity itself.

But the fact remained that Citation has never gone the mile and a half and that—if anything—will make it a horse race when the bugle sounds at spacious Belmont.

Certainly there was no opposition in the offing. Even the Coaltown myth was destroyed by the defeat of Citation's stablemate in the Withers mile two weeks ago.

Cleveland Buckeyes Have Streak Busted

CLEVELAND—(INS)—The Memphis Red Sox, snapped the nine-game winning streak of the Cleveland Buckeyes, 4-2, yesterday in the first game of a Negro American league twin bill in Cleveland.

The defending champs rebounded, however, to take the nightcap 3-2, and retain their hold on third place.

Boston Rides on 5-Tilt Win Streak

Yankees Win Two; Cards Pass Giants

By CARL LUNDQUIST

NEW YORK—(UP)—Boss Joe McCarthy of the Boston Red Sox, who is a mighty snappy dresser for a stylish stout, may not have to add that double-breasted tweed straightjacket to his wardrobe after all.

When the Red Sox went into their prolonged tailspin this spring, there were reports that McCarthy's tailor was measuring him for that restraining garment, but the Buffalo Irishman had reason to feel a little more cheerful today because the club was on a five-game winning streak.

What's more he was getting good pitching and hitting at the same time. Previously, when the pitching was sharp the hitting was flat, or vice versa. Yesterday Boston topped the Tigers 5 to 4 and 12 to 4 and the twin win put the club into a three-way tie for fourth place with Detroit and Washington.

Vern Stephens and Stan Spence got homers in each game. Stephens turned defeat into victory in the opener when his two-run blast in the eighth tied the score at 4-all and his single in the ninth drove in the winning run. In the second game, Ted Williams led the 17-hit assault with a homer, double and two singles. Stout-hearted relief pitching by Earl Johnson in the opener and by Dave (Boo) Ferriss in the nightcap kept the Bengals at bay after the Boston starters were batted out.

The Indians lengthened their lead to 2½ games in the American by topping the second place Athletics, 5 to 3 and 11 to 1, at Philadelphia.

YANKEES COME FAST

At New York, the Yankees crept to within half a game of the Athletics by defeating the Browns, 4 to 3 and 3 to 0. Bobby Brown's single in the ninth drove in the opener in which Bud Souchock and Johnny Lindell hit Yankee homers and Gerry Priddy got one for St. Louis. In the afterpiece, Vic Raschi won his seventh straight game and his second shutout in a row, holding the Browns to three hits. George McQuinn got a Yankee homer.

Qualifying almost as a minor miracle was the double victory for the lowly White Sox over the Senators at Washington, 10 to 4 and 11 to 4. The Sox made 26 hits. Don Kolloway led the 15-hit attack in the opener with four singles in the second game. Joe Haynes won his fourth game in the opener and Glenn Moulder was the winner in the nightcap.

The Cardinals regained first place in the National by toppling the Phils, 11 to 1 and 2 to 0, as a pair of lower case pitchers, Jim Hearn and Al Brazle, turned in important triumphs at St. Louis. Erv Dusak, Al Schoendienst, Enos Slaughter and Vernal (Equinox) Jones hit homers in a spectacular sixth inning spree in the first game. Hearn held the Phils to four hits in the first game and Brazle doled out just five in the second. Schoendienst had quite a day getting three doubles along with his homer in the opener and adding two more doubles in the second game.

GIANTS OUT OF LEAD

Ralph Kiner's 14th homer of the year gave the Pirates a 4 to 3 victory and knocked the Giants out of first place in the National after the New Yorkers had blasted out a 16 to 4 first game victory. Sid Gordon hit a grand slam homer in the opener and batted in seven runs for the game and Ray Poat coasted to his fifth victory. Elmer Riddle won his sixth game for the Bucs, holding New York to six hits in the afterpiece.

Johnny Sain pitched a four-hit, 1 to 0 victory for the Braves at Chicago and drove in the only run with a single. It was his fifth victory.

The Dodgers won a rain-shortened five-inning game from the Reds, 2 to 0, at Cincinnati, Joe Hatten giving up only two hits and walking none for his fifth victory. The second game was postponed.

Big Jim Bagby Wins Eleventh In Association

(By International News Service)

Big Jim Bagby, who never enjoyed the major league success of his famous father, the "Old Sarge," apparently has struck his stride in the American association.

The former Cleveland and Boston Red Sox twirler chalked up his eleventh victory against only one defeat yesterday as the league leading Indianapolis Indians defeated Toledo twice, 9 to 8 and 13 to 4.

Bagby was lacking in his usual mastery yesterday, needing help from Red Barrett in the first game, but he aided his own cause with a home run.

Milwaukee stayed 5½ games behind the Tribe in second place by edging Minneapolis twice, 3 to 2 and 4 to 3.

Columbus moved back into third place with a double triumph over Louisville, 3 to 2 and 7 to 6.

Kansas City knocked St. Paul into fourth place by winning a twin bill from the Apostles, 4 to 3 and 8 to 3.

Physical Ruin Hangs Heavy Over Berlin

By EARL J. JOHNSON

BERLIN —(U.P.)— Hitler left the master race a terrible heritage here. Without a personal visit, the pre-war American tourist can scarcely realize how terrible it is.

You see it first in the physical ruin that still litters Berlin in the fourth year since the surrender. Later you see it in the people themselves.

From an airplane, downtown Berlin must look like an empty honeycomb. The opera is in ruins. So is the Kaiser's palace, and the Eden hotel. The long rounded roof of the central railroad station (the Friedrichstrasse) is a skeleton of black steel girders.

In the bombed-out shell of Hitler's ornate chancellory old men in rags sell pieces of mosaic they've chipped from the walls. The asking price is one cigaret, or even a butt. The Russians are carting away marble slabs from the walls to build a memorial.

HITLER'S GRAVE 'BURED'

The spot in the garden where Hitler's body is supposed to have been buried disappeared under a pile of sand recently when the Russians dynamited the bunker.

The Unter Den Linden once was the proudest tree-shaded boulevard in all Germany.

Today the Unter Den Linden is bare, and dust from crumbling mortar swirls in the wind across its broad pavements. The avenue looks wider than ever because so many buildings are gone on either side.

Walking east from the Brandenburger gate, you look on the right for the American embassy. Only the shell of the embassy is there. The windows are mere holes in masonry. Inside, bricks and twisted girders are piled two stories high.

JAGGED WALLS

Next on the right was Louis Adlon's famous hotel, once the last word in European luxury. Now upper floors are smashed down and walls and chimneys are jagged against the sky. The windows and doors which used to open on the Unter Den Linden are bricked up solid.

A wooden sign with the word "Aldon" hangs over the former entrance, and you come in from the rear now through a dark passage which has been shored up like a tunnel in a coal mine. about 50 rooms are in use again.

Temporary narrow gauge tracks wind through some of the worst ruins. Over these the Germans are slowly hauling away bricks and broken masonry. When one collapsed building is cleared away the tracks are moved up beside another.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Bricker to Guide Ohio Republican Convention Delegation

Group Picks Nominator Of Sen. Taft

Governor Herbert Chosen Vice President

COLUMBUS (INS)—U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker will be chairman and Gov. Thomas J. Herbert vice chairman of the Ohio delegation to the Republican national convention.

They were elected to head the Ohio group which goes to Philadelphia June 21 in an harmonious meeting yesterday of 40 of the 53 elected delegates.

Five of those in attendance were among the nine pledged to the candidacy of former Minnesota governor Harold E. Stassen. The others, of course, are pledged to Ohio's favorite son, Sen. Robert A. Taft.

State Republican Chairman Fred H. Johnson, of Zanesville, was named secretary of the delegation, and Congressman Clarence J. Brown, of Blanchester, and Mrs. Katharine Kennedy Brown, of Dayton, were recommended for re-election as national committeemen and committeewoman.

BROWN'S FIRST TERM

The congressman is serving his first term as committeeman, while Mrs. Brown—no relation—is serving her fourth.

Named to serve on the convention committees from the Ohio delegation were:

Resolutions and platform — Governor Herbert and Miss Margaret E. Baker of Springfield.

Credentials — Ed D. Schorr, Cincinnati, former state chairman.

Permanent organization — Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton, Cleveland.

Rules and order of business—Congressman George H. Bender, Cleveland.

Honorary vice chairman — Former Gov. Myers Y. Cooper of Cincinnati.

Committee to notify the presidential nominee—John E. Galvin, Lima.

Committee to notify the vice presidential nominee — Franklin County Republican Chairman William Schneider, of Columbus.

HERBERT CHANGES SIGNAL

A pre-meeting move to name Herbert delegation chairman collapsed when Herbert nominated Bricker. There were no other nominations and the senator's election was unanimous.

Bricker also has been chosen by Taft to place Taft's name in nomination befor the convention, so that, in effect, much of the responsibilities of the delegation chairman will fall on vice chairman Herbert's shoulders.

Congressman Brown, who is serving as Taft's campaign manager, declared that it was his "honest opinion" that Taft will lead on the first ballot with more than 300 votes, but admitted that the contest would be "wide open."

Galion Jaycees Spray City With DDT In Anti-Fly War

GALION — If Galion has an unusual number of flies this summer, it will not be the fault of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The local Jaycees were out early Sunday morning to open an anti-fly campaign by spraying DDT in the downtown business districts, and at outlying grocery stores and restaurants. Proprietors and owners of these places are cooperating in the campaign.

A power sprayer was used as the men sprayed entrances of business places.

The local Jaycees are joining with 2,000 other communities in the country in the first organized national program to wipe out flies and other disease-bearing insects.

All residents of Galion are asked to unite in the effort by reading pamphlets which the Jaycees are distributing to citizens. The pamphlets will tell how to prevent flies in and around the home.

A general clean-up of garbage, repair of screens on doors and windows, in addition to the periodic use of DDT sprays and powders, is the program which the Jaycees advocate for Galion citizens.

Shriners Attend Picnic At Cabin

Mansfield area Shriners held their first picnic of the season Saturday at "Shangri La" country cabin of Bob Hayes about eight miles west of Mansfield.

A swiss steak and mushroom supper was served to 150. Following the dinner, the Rupps, captained by Carl Rupp beat the Ropps, with Richard Ropp as captain in a baseball game, 8 to 5. A second game will be played by the two teams at the annual family picnic in August at Long Lake.

City Firm Only Bidder

The Mansfield Asphalt Paving company was the only bidder today on the paving of Wood street, Overlook road and Fairlawn avenue.

The project is part of the city's $263,000 street improvement program. The contracts will not be let until the city engineer has had an opportunity to tabulate the total cost of the jobs.

Portions of the streets to be paved are on Wood street, between Cline and Glessner avenues; Overlook road, from Crescent to Davis roads, and Fairlawn avenue, from the end of the existing pavement to Millsboro road.

Four companies bid to supply the city with 100 two, three, four, six and eight-inch water meters, but since exact comparisons of the bids were not readily available, the low bidder was not announced immediately.

Bids were received from the Hersey Manufacturing company, South Boston, Mass.; the Badger Meter Manufacturing company, Milwaukee, Wis.; the Hughes Supply company, Mansfield, and the Rockwell Manufacturing company, Pittsburgh.

The Buchman Electric Construction company was the sole bidder on a motor and blower for the sewage treatment plant. It offered to do the work for $944.

5,000 See Gun Exhibit

More than 5,000 persons viewed hundreds of old and new guns from all over the world that were displayed Saturday and yesterday by 100 different gun collectors at the Ashland county fairgrounds.

Cy Hassinger, Mansfield, president of the Richland County Collectors' club, reported that guns dating back to the 16th century were shown.

"One of the most unusual items," he said, "was an old matchlock gun built for a far eastern sultan during the 1500's."

Included in the two-day display were hand guns, rifles and shotguns built for commercial use by both American and foreign manufacturers.

Weapons used in every war in which the United States participated were exhibited and explained to visitors by members of the Ohio and Richland County Gun Collectors' clubs.

TITANIC SURVIVOR DIES

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — John A. Rumpel, 105-year-old missionary, world traveler and survivor of the Titanic disaster, died at the county farm here Saturday night.

City Expected to Join Drive For Children's Aid Funds

The possibility that Mansfield may participate in the United Nations sponsored "Crusade for Children" loomed today with the announcement by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn that he would contact Sherman A. Wentz, of the Mansfield Savings Trust National Bank, concerning the formation of a committee for the drive.

Wentz has been appointed treasurer of the Mansfield drive by a Washington official and Mayor Vaughn said he would try to arrange a meeting tomorrow at 4 p. m. for the purpose of launching a local drive.

The American Overseas Aid, United Nations Appeal for Children, as it is officially known, is designed to obtain voluntary money contributions for speedy aid to millions of hungry and dying children in war-stricken countries abroad.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall has said: "If we fail to do our part for the nourishment and care today of the children with whom our children will live tomorrow, we shall have failed in statesmanship as well as humanity."

He challenged Americans to "share out plenty by responding generously."

The national goal of the campaign is $60,000,000.

5 From City Get Diplomas

Five Mansfield students were graduated from Ohio colleges over the week-end.

They were Jacob Hager, 272 Parker street, who was given a BCS degree; William Stomps, 266 Vennum avenue, a BSIE degree, and Jeanie Wentz, 478 West Fourth street, from Ohio university, Athens. Miss Wentz was an honor student, receiving a BFA degree.

The three Mansfielders were among the 492 Seniors who received their diplomas in exercises Sunday afternoon in Memorial auditorium.

Two other Mansfielders were graduated from Case Institute of Technology Saturday morning. They were Richard Derl, 384 Sturges avenue, and Edwin Kell, 135 West Prospect street.

Derl is a graduate of St. Peter's High school. Before entering Case he attended St. Joseph's Academy and Ohio State university.

Kell was graduated from Mansfield Senior High school. He is a member of Phi Kappa Tau. Derl's fraternity is Sigma Chi.

Boys' Rifles Confiscated

Three .22 calibre rifles were confiscated from three Bellville youths by the highway patrol yesterday when the youths were found shooting across State Route 97 at a railroad warning sign.

Patrolmen said they were holding the rifles pending further investigation. The boys were reported to be 15 and 17 years old.

Officers warned that the same action will be taken on any further complaints involving firearms around state highways. The act is in violation of the state law prohibiting the shooting of firearms over highways and the damaging of highway and railroad signs.

Rehearsals Start for Morrow Pageant

MT. GILEAD — Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Dorrington of the John E. Rogers Producing company, Fosoria, directors of the Morrow County Centennial pageant, are now located in Mt. Gilead and have started rehearsals at Deering Hall. Their plans were outlined last week at a meeting held with talent chairmen of the different county communities.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorrington, who have had years of experience in the production of historical pageants, state that the actual historical events of Morrow county have furnished them material for one of the best scenerios they have produced.

A cast of approximately 450 people from the county will be required to stage this spectacular event. They will need approximately 200 men and women and 200 boys and girls. Complete costumes will be furnished to everyone in the cast.

The stage will be 200 feet in length and 75 feet wide. Special backbround and lighting effects will make the event most colorful. The stage will be situated across from the grandstand at the Morrow county fairgrounds and will be large enough to accommodate a horse and wagon train.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorrington stressed the fact that more actors are needed. People throughout the county are urgently requested to volunteer for the cast of this historical event.

Those wishing to volunteer as members of the cast should contact the talent chairmen in the different county communities. They are:

Johnsville: Max Kennedy; Marengo, Mrs. Lucille Saltz; Cardington, H. B. Fleming; Sparta, Mrs. Robert Fulton; Chesterville, W. G. Spies; Edison, Ida Pfeifer; Iberia, George Ruhl; Fulton, Bonnie Baker, and Mt. Gilead, Richard Denton.

The Centennial will be held on July 3, 4 and 5. The pageant will be presented on the nights of July 4 and 5.

ALUMNAE NURSES GIVE PARTY FOR GRADUATES

Mansfield General Hospital Class of '48 Honored at Annual Banquet and Dance.

THE Richland Recreation Center was the scene Saturday night of the Mansfield General Hospital Alumnae Banquet and Dance for the 1948 graduating class. Eighty-five alumnae, graduates and guests were present, twenty-one of them honored guests.

The class colors, orchid and white, were used for the talbe decorations which included tapers and bouquets of carnations and sweetpeas. The graduates' table was centered with a large arrangement of yellow roses, the class flower. Gaily wrapped gifts marked the places.

Mrs. R. L. Maxwell and her committee were in charge of arrangements and Mrs. Maxwell acted as toastmistress. She introduced Miss Carrie Beal, superintendent of nurses; Mrs. Grace McCausland, alumnae president and superintendent of nurses at the Richland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium. Each spoke briefly and Mrs. McCausland welcomed and introduced the members of the graduating class.

Miss Vivian Mentzer, class president, spoke on behalf of the graduates.

Dr. A. O. Fonkalsrud, hospital superintendent since 1931, spoke to the group reviewing accomplishments at the hospital during his service there. He also elaborated on the class motto, "With hopes of the past, we ring the bells of the future."

Miss Hilda Allison then gave Dr. Fonkalsrud a gift from the Alumnae Association. It was the book, "George Crile, an Autobiography," edited by Grace Crile. Miss Allison also presented a pair of bandage scissors as a gift to each of the graduates.

Miss Gayle Rife, night supervisor at the hospital and a member of the first class at Mansfield General Hospital in 1924, called the roll call of each class, interspersing brief comments.

Mrs. Paul Hoch, Marion, another member of the 1924 class, was present. Mrs. Ryall Kimber, Wooster, a graduate of 1925, was another guest.

Paul Bergener and his orchestra provided music for 100 couples who danced from 10 until 2 o'clock. The dance was open only to graduates, alumnae, staff doctors and dental surgeons and their guests.

Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Morkel, Columbus; Russell Gerity, Vallejo, Calif., and Harry Musgrove, Richmond, Ind., who was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Mott, South Foster street.

The next meeting of the alumnae will be July 1 at the Nurses' home. The program will be announced later.

Teen Talk—

Gossip From M. H. S.

By ANN SCHOENMAN

Well, kids, or should I say fellow graduates, it's all over! The hustle and bustle of the last days in school are finished. We can close the cover on our high school career. Some of the phrases and sentences that were overheard as the class of 1948 filed onto the stadium field Wednesday at 6 p. m. were "Gee, I'm scared—wonder if I'll be able to find Mom and Dad—This is it, kids—It's been lots of fun hasn't it?—I wonder if Mom'll cry"—

* * *

Carl Hamman wanted to make sure that his diploma was all signed and sealed before he got back to his seat. He opened it as he left the stage just to make sure. . . . Maureen Moore is going to Indiana for another prom soon. Here's hoping she has lots of fun. . . . Shirley Brigham drove up to Cedar Point Friday with a car load of girls to invade the amusement park for the day. I hear it was lots of fun, too. . . .

* * *

Speaking of Shirley, she, Millie Schmitzer and Betty DeLaney had quite a time at the lakes last Sunday. They even went in swimming, as cold as it was. . . . There was a big party in full swing right after commencement, I hear. . . . It started at Fred Miller's and wound up at Bob Fisher's. Ben Metzger had the gang up in between times. His house was fixed to resemble the decorations at the cafeteria the night of the prom. . . . Those present were Beverly Phallen, Ben, Susie Hansberger, Fred, Dorothy Foose and Bob. They said they spent the evening congratulating each other for receiving their lambskins. . . .

* * *

Every time you go up to a group of people and ask what time it is, you'll be sure of finding out. About ten present will hold up their wrists and tell you the exact time their new watch has. . . . Effie Christ is now in New York having a good time. . . . Joanne Gale, one of the members of the 1948 class, who used to go to M. H. S., is now in Palo Alto, Calif., basking in the warm sun. . . . Ruth Smith was seen at the dance sponsored by the juniors at the YMCA, after commencement, with Dick Dillon. . . .

Well, kids, now instead of school work and dances we'll have to settle down to steady jobs in this large world. Let's hope that we can have as much fun doing that as we have had in our school career.

Tip to Russians—So live and speak that the other fellows will believe what you tell 'em.

It is being noted that it is only the DEMAND for new houses that has been falling off—not the NEED for them.

In case you wondered, it is explained: "Studios avoid putting the complete wedding ceremony into a movie because of a superstition that this might constitute a real marriage" —but why should such a technicality disturb Hollywood?

Critical Lack of Parking Space

IT MIGHT be well for Mansfield to check and find out just how much business is being lost because of the downtown traffic situation and the lack of adequate parking space. The city of Pittsburgh got its eyes opened suddenly when a survey revealed that downtown business had slumped to the amount of a $97,000,000 drop in taxable property assessments.

It didn't take long for city officials to discover the trouble. Engineers found that 71,000 cars passed through the downtown business area between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. yet there were only 319 legal curb parking spaces. As a result business was simply migrating to outlying areas where there were parking spaces, leaving the heart of the city to decay.

Already there is some evidence of such a trend in Mansfield.

Pittsburghers got busy. A public parking authority was established and $36,000,000 set aside to acquire sites and build downtown parking garages. In all, 17 four-floor and three five-deck garages will be built. Parking charges will range from 10 cents to 35 cents and the garages are expected to be self-sustaining.

At least five years ago Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals told Mansfield officials that it would be a wise investment to purchase a downtown site and build a parking garage. He has repeated his plea for parking garages a number of times since then.

Will Mansfield wait for business deterioration to drive civic leaders to action? Or will we profit by Pittsburgh's experience and get busy on a smaller scale right now?

In passing, it is not amiss to point out that Boals has also prepared a traffic survey which makes concrete suggestions for clearing up our traffic mess. There is a growing feeling that Mansfield has a traffic commissioner who knows his business and that the time has come to carry out his recommendations as far as possible, without further quibbling and waiting for necessity to force more costly action.

Viewing the Universe From Palomar

IT WOULD BE a good idea, if such a thing were possible, for every adult American and teen age child to be given opportunity to take a look through that giant new telescope that has just been dedicated in Palomar Mountain observatory in California.

Through that Giant Glass of Palomar human beings on this small planet are enabled to look billions of miles into limitless space and to gain greater knowledge than ever before of the millions of travelers in this and other universes that spread to incomprehensible infinity.

Broadening of understanding of the expanse of even this one "universe" would go far toward providing a better basis for estimating the relative importance of world happenings, national problems, community controversies and individual worries.

Any idea, for instance, that this tiny planet, hurtling through space in its dependably accurate course, is the only celestial body on which life exists, seems absurd when thought is given to the vastly greater bodies whose distance is measured in light years rather than in miles.

Life, in its various forms, as it exists on Earth, is adapted to conditions here, and it needs no stretch of imagination to conclude that a Divine plan provided for forms of life suited to whatever conditions may exist elsewhere in this or other universes.

It was in humble mood that the Psalmist said: "When I consider thy heavens, the works of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained; what is man that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? For thou hast made him but little lower than God, and crowned him with glory and honor."

In these troublous times on Earth, with dissension among nations and peoples over petty differences, at least an occasional thought may well be given to some of the things of lasting value, rather than concentrating attention on transitory disturbances which do no more than reflect the as yet unfinished struggle of the human family toward what can be rightly called "civilization."

Russia Holds Chess Championship

RUSSIA is again the undisputed world leader in one competition—chess. In Moscow, Mikhail Moysiayovitch Botvinnik won the international chess tournament of the year. After watching in silent tenseness, spectators applauded in unrestrained enthusiasm as the young man made his final clinching move.

It is reassuring to think about Russians and chess. They have been proficient in the game for generations. Chess has had ardent devotees in every country for as long as history has been written.

The origin of the game is clouded in legend. It is linked with King Solomon, Aristotle, and early Brahmins. Some think it was invented by the Hindus, moved to China, then to Europe with the Moslems. Charlemagne is supposed to have been an adept. In England it became popular during the Middle Ages and never lost favor.

Much literature has been penned on the subject. Rules of play have been compared to those of military science. The name, chess, means king.

"Toolie Oolie Doolie" is being mentioned as the new song that it is easiest to get sick of.

Of course there's a lot of early morning daylight that needn't be wasted.

Selfish Interests Delay Flood Control

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE TERRIBLE floods in the Northwest are a kind of handwriting on the wall for anyone who cares to read. It is a warning, in words a mile high, of the cost of failure.

The tragedy in Oregon comes in the immediate aftermath of another event that put Oregon in the headlines. That was the Republican primary fiercely contested by Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Harold Stassen.

They talked about housing. They talked about the development of river basins and flood control. And then the rains came and the floods came, to show that promises are empty unless they are backed by more than words.

Under the pressure of high-priced lobbyists, the Republican Congress is chipping away at the Tennessee Valley Authority. TVA has demonstrated that it can control devastating floods and at the same time produce low-cost power to benefit a whole region. On at least three different occasions the TVA system has functioned to prevent damage from flood waters.

It is fairly clear that only through such an over-all, coordinated approach as TVA can the job on our river valleys be done. Only through such an all-out attack can the evils of erosion be checked and the damage done by man be overcome.

The Army engineers have spent hundreds of millions of dollars on flood control over many, many years, and yet year after year the headlines tell of mounting flood damage.

The Army engineers are an efficient corps, but no amount of efficiency can compensate for the pick-and-choose tactics that result from the grab-bag of flood control held out by Congress.

Stassen, in his campaign in Oregon, flatly opposed regional authorities for river basins. Dewey at first said he favored "development on a regional basis for the drainage valleys of the Missouri, Columbia and the Williamette rivers." Two days later, however, he announced that a Missouri or a Columbia River Valley Authority would be the equivalent of "tyranny."

In Oregon they explain this sudden shift by saying that Dewey got some pointed prompting from David B. Simpson, a Portland realtor who was one of the New York governor's principal backers.

A Columbia Valley Authority is one of the hot issues in Oregon politics. Ardent boosters for a CVA want a system of storage reservoirs near the headquarters of the river. These storage basins would back the surplus water and release it gradually. The possibility of a disaster like that at Vanport would be greatly reduced.

* * *

Plenty of Promises.

THIS is not merely a wordy argument among politicians. Behind the politicians' promises are men, women, children fleeing for their lives before a wall of dirty water that sweeps down unchecked.

Housing is another issue which sometimes, in political speeches and before congressional committees, has an empty sound. But the refugees who fled from Vanport could tell us something about "housing."

They were living in flimsy, barracks-like apartments built as temporary quarters for the thousands of war workers who came to Oregon's shipyards. Most of them were veterans with their families. They could find no other place to live.

Here in Washington the little band of men who rule the House have decided there shall be no housing legislation from this Congress. They are saboraging a measure already passed by the Senate.

After long and patient effort, Senator Robert A. Taft got a bill through the Senate providing for a modest minimum of houses to be built with a government subsidy. Because of this provision in the bill the oligarchy in the House means to kill it.

We are going to hear a lot more promises from the politicians. When the two parties gather in Philadelphia to nominate their candidates, they will put together platforms, which are traditionally full of promises.

Some day people may begin to wonder a little about the relation between promise and performance. Perhaps even the political carpenters at Philadelphia will think about it a little as they promise and promise and promise.

Speaking of Your Health

Warding Off Hay Fever

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE hay-fever victim who wants to ward off next fell's sneezes and sniffles must start now.

Hay-fever is due to sensitivity to the pollen from some weed, grass, or tree, usually ragweed, which is rife in most localities during the late summer or early fall. If hay-fever sufferers start in time there is a good chance that they can build up an increased tolerance for this pollen during the time when they are free of symptoms so as to be able to meet it on more nearly equal terms when it appears in the air next September.

By Injections.

This is done by injections of gradually increasing doses of pollen extract. The treatment is most successful when it is carried out the year around for several years, but it can still be very helpful if started several months in advance of the hay-fever season.

It has been estimated that about 8 out of 10 of the patients properly treated by injection of the pollen extract will have from 75 per cent to 80 per cent relief from hay-fever, and about one-fourth of the patients will be relieved completely.

The earlier in life the treatment is started and the more faithfully it is continued for several years, the better are the chances that permanent immunity will be developed.

The injections are usually given at intervals of from four to seven days. During the hay-fever season, the injections may be given every week or two. Care in regulating the dosage, of course, is necessary in giving the injections since reactions may occur if the dose is too large.

Hay Fever Season.

During the hay-fever season, the afflicted person should do everything possible to avoid contact with pollen. This is easily accomplished by a change to a different climate but, unfortunately, few people can afford this.

For those who must stay at home there are filters which can be put into windows to remove pollen from the air coming into the room. By remaining in such a room as much as possible during the ragweed season, symptoms can to a great extent, be relieved.

House Leaders Bottle Up Education Bill

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It hasn't been publicized, but the census takers have unearthed the shocking fact than ten million American adults cannot read or write.

Yet Congress, willing to spend billions to train young men for war, has bottled up the $300,000,000 aid-to-education bill to train young men and women for peace.

Georgia's Democratic Congressman Don Wheeler has been begging for 218 of his House mates to sign a discharge petition to force the federal-aid-to-education bill out of the education and labor committee where it has been salted away by the GOP leadership. But he has not been able to scrape up more than 43 names!

Chief obstacles are Speaker Joe Martin and majority leader Charlie Halleck, who have ordered the committee not to let the bill out. Also, they have passed word to Republicans not to sign any discharge petition. So far only one Republican has defied these orders—North Dakota's Bill Lemke, who joined with 42 Democrats already on the petition.

However, minority leader Sam Rayburn also has quietly blocked the petition and has succeeded in keeping Texas and Virginia Democrats from signing.

* * *

Less Literate Than Russia.

MEANWHILE, literacy in the United States has sunk to an alarming low — probably lower than Russia. What the public also doesn't realize is that the nation's ten million illiterates over 24 years old are not southern Negroes, but many of them native-born whites.

Official statistics show that 4,200,000 adults, who cannot read or write, are whites born in this country. Another 3,100,000 are foreign-born whites, whereas only 2,700,000 are Negroes. The remaining handful are Latin Americans and Orientals by birth.

Furthermore, illiteracy isn't found exclusively in the South. For example, more than one million illiterate adults live in New York, another 696,000 in Pennsylvania and 462,000 in Illinois. However, 36 per cent of Louisiana's total population cannot read or write.

During the war, the draft boards weeded out 350,000 young men who could only sign their names with an X. Of these, 150,000 were physically fit to serve in the Army but were disqualified because of lack of education—a loss to the country of approximately 15 divisions.

Yet House leaders are not willing to spend a few million dollars on a bill already passed by the Senate and which would again make America the most enlightened nation in the world.

* * *

Feeble Voice.

NOT in years has Congress been caught with a better case of being wrong than in the current squabble over the Voice of America. Yet the diplomats haven't been able to make the public realize than Congress, not the diplomats, are to blame.

Last year Republican economizers cut the Voice of America's appropriation to ribbons, told the state department to broadcast through private radio channels. The state department obeyed. It farmed out Latin American radio programs to the National Broadcasting company, which then proceeded to concoct a series of slipshod programs that insulted Senators.

Now the senators are mad because the state department carried out their orders.

They are also mad because the state department didn't have enough money to hire men to monitor the daily deluge of words which NBC and other private radio networks sent abroad.

But the state department is so meek, mild and inarticulate that it hasn't told the Congressmen in decisive, reverberating language that it was all their own fault.

Note—The more you see of the state department's propaganda operation, the better Elmer Davis's job looks. Davis was wartime head of the Office of Information, got kicked around by Congress, did an effective job just the same.

* * *

Chaplain's Congregation.

KINDLY, 82-year-old Martha Scott shocked the ladies of Senate Chaplain Peter Marshall's Presbyterian church the other day when she showed up at their weekly tea with a Negro nurse. They were even more shocked when Miss Scott announced her intention of coming the following week with her colored nurse.

The ladies called a frantic conference, agreed that the nurse would have to be barred. A delegation got on the phone to notify Miss Scott.

"I'm sorry," replied someone at the other end, probably the nurse in question, "but Miss Scott passed away an hour ago."

Threatened to Kill Pearson

Editor's note—In July 1946, Ralph Moore, well-known Washington lobbyist, threatened to kill Drew Pearson if he continued digging into Moore's operations. Pearson had run across Moore's trail in connection with the commodity-market speculating of Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, which the columnist exposed a full two years before Harold Stassen focussed national attention upon commodity-market gambling in high places.

Despite Moore's threats, Pearson continued with his probe, printed series of stories on Moore's lobbying and speculating. This week, in Washington, Pearson's digging culminated in the justice department's filing a bill of complaint against Moore for trying to rig the lard and fats market through a phony press release. Pearson had exposed this operation on Oct. 24, 1947.

'New Truman' Emerges

— By THOMAS L. STOKES

ABOARD President Truman's Special Train—Politics is big business these days.

It is also show business: Like big business, which is also show business, politics uses all the modern paraphernalia of publicity, advertising and special stunts to attract the customers.

We have here, on this special train of sixteen cars, a man who apparently needs customers. Harry Truman is on the road with his show to try to pick some up.

He has one stunt. He's had it a long time. But his promoters only recently waked up to it. This is his talent for the short, friendly, folksy impromptu speech, nicely spiced with humor, which brings out the innate sincerity of the man who now occupies the biggest job in the world. He is using that stunt on this trip.

As is so often the case, his White house entourage had to be told by somebody else how good the stunt is. The hidden talent, the miracle they had overlooked, was revealed to them suddenly one night at a banquet of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington a few weeks back.

The President read a long, prepared speech about inflation—which was sound enough but hardly sparkling. The assembled editors were thrown into a doze on about the second or third price curve. The President's voice in such readings does have a peculiar soporific quality.

When he had finished, his listeners bestirred themselves and gave him the appropriate polite applause that editors use for speeches.

* * *

Surprising Difference.

THEN he tossed aside his prepared address with evident relief, as if to say, "Now, thank heaven, that's over," and began to talk to the editors informally and casually, but right straight from the shoulder.

He talked about many current problems, among them national defense. Here his audience quickly recognized that he spoke with authority—he had become an expert from his long experience as chairman of the Senate committee that had probed relentlessly into every angle of national defense.

He talked also about foreign affairs generally, and about Russia—all in informative and appealingly frank and simple manner. He talked, too, about his earnest desire for peace in the world, and how anxious he is to achieve it, and here his deep hopes became very apparent.

When he finished this time, the editors literally leaped to their feet to give him a rousing ovation. He had enthralled them with his second speech, though it hardly could be called a speech in the usual sense.

Why, they asked each other, does he not talk to the people this way? Some expressed the opinion that, if he would get out over the country and talk to the people that way, there possibly might be a different result in November than generally anticipated. It was quite an interesting spectace to watch that night.

Fortunately, some of the White House entourage were there to see, too. Here was what they had been looking for—and it was right under their noses all the time.

Thus was created the "New Truman," the direct, sincere man talking directly and sincerely to fellow citizens, taking them into partnership, as it were.

He had a "try-out" at a few local occasions in Washington and the experiment was so successful that the show is now on the road, with the President talking from the back platform as his train moves toward the West and the Pacific coast. Sandwiched among numerous such appearances are five scheduled speeches for discussion of basic policies. So the ghost writers are getting enough exercise to keep their brain muscles in trim.

Much depends on this traveling show, for it represents a desperate attempt to revive the President's flagging fortunes.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THE LOT of the married man is steadily improving . . . now two-fifths of the wives of the country are gainfully employed.

* * *

The other three-fifths can be talked into it if their husbands are at all clever.

* * *

More married than single women are now regularly employed. . . . a goal husbands once thought impossible of attainment.

* * *

But it shows the progress women have made since they began their drive for equal rights. . . . Today they can put in their eight, 10, 12 hours, just like any man.

* * *

In fact the way most of us men feel about work there never was greater opportunity for a working wife than there is today. . . . and if they can't find jobs we'll find them for them.

* * *

But don't get too enthusiastic. . . . They'll catch on.

Dave Boone Says:

I HEAR somebody left two laundry checks, a sheet of jazz music, an auto license, a weather forecast and a bill for corn from Hank Wallace on a desk at the National Broadcasting company the other day and a vice president broadcast the whole thing to Latin America as the Voice of American program.

* * *

The more you read of the lack of responsibility and supervision of that program the more convincing this rumor seems.

* * *

I see where a real-estate man who stuck up homeseekers right and left, even taking an auto from a veteran to get him a place to live, was sentenced to one year in prison and fined $8,500. Shucks, I've seen poor ignorant nobodies get stiffer terms than that for crimes that were more excusable.

* * *

In fact there are a lot of notorious badmen who would stop short of that kind of stuff. A little less emphasis on the "stern warning to others" angle, judge!

Damage to young orchards is often great. The tenderest trees are worst affected. Perhaps the orchardist, of all men, can best understand the force of Moses' message to Pharoah, in Bible times. However, migratory locusts, are another branch of the cicada family.

What we can look for is a myriad of large bold insects, flying at random. Their song will be a noisy and disturbing over the land. They will not cease their noise or their destruction until fall. Some will even survive first frost.

The males produce their shrill rasping notes by vibrating membranes of special sound organs on the underside of the abdomen. A little later the deafening serenade will begin, to last all summer. We hear it now, in the woods above the slope.

For those with only a few young trees, it is possible to swath the tops with cheesecloth and prevent damage. I knew a man who picked the insects off of his orchard trees every day, with fairly good success. His trees are bearing now.

However there is not, so far as I can find out, any recommended spray or detergent that will protect little fruit trees from damage. We shall have to grin and bear it, and hope for the most.

Farmer's Diary

Seventeen-Year Locusts

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE EARTH is stirring with strange movements of a mighty army. Laying my ear against the grass, I hear faint dull motion from a host of insects. The hard bare footpath across our lawn is punctured with holes cleanly bored. I thrust my pencil down and it was nearly hidden from view. In the space of a square foot, I count, 1 25 holes

Up on the trunks of our big maples, weird empty shells of the cicadas cling and harden. Sometimes the newly hatched insect still is beside its outgrown shell, moist and pale with conspicuous scarlet eyes. Every tree and taller scrub or weed has a few clinging shells. When the gauzy wings of the insect have turned darker brown, it takes off over the fields on the first strong breeze that blows.

It alights and lays its eggs upon the tender terminal branch of some fruit tree, or forest tree. The sting causes the tip to die. Before fall, our tender woodland treetops will probably look as though singed by fire.

The portions that are killed fall to the woodland floor, eventually, and there the grub of the cicada crawls into the earth, where it remains for 17 years before another generation emerges.

Installment Buying Up

Increase Behind Rest of Nation

When it comes to installment buying and debts through charge accounts, Mansfielders are a little better off than the rest of the nation, the Retail Merchants association said today.

V. H. Lodde, the secretary, did agree, that installment buying here is on the increase, however.

"Although no figures are available at this time, requests for credit and open charge accounts have continued to rise along with buying on the installment plan," he said.

Federal Reserve board report released in Washington shows total consumer credit in the United States at a record high of $13,596,000,000.

Lodde attributed the fact that installment buying had showed little increase here to steady employment in the numerous Mansfield manufacturing concerns.

"In other cities of comparative size where closing of war plants and curtailed post-war manufacturing has caused UN employment, a rise in installment buying and consumer credit is only natural," he said.

Lodde predicted installment buying would climb to new heights as more merchandise reached the open market. "An increase in the availability of consumer goods can only mean an increase in the consumer credit index," he remarked.

Thirsty Chairman Sips Liquid Soap

RICHMOND, Va —(AP)— The arguments hadn't even begun, but several candidates for the Richmond city council just missed frothing at the mouth.

Red Cross Aims to Teach Three In Four to Swim

A water safety and swimming program, planned to help eliminate many of the tragic drownings that usually occur during the summer season, will get under way on July 2 with the Red Cross chapter here as sponsor It is designed to teach the three out of four children in Mansfield who cannot swim how to take care of themselves in water

Plans for the season were announced by Sam Fox, water safety chairman, and Gerald Coron, water safety director of the Richland county chapter. ..

The program as outlined by the chapter officials, will provide for lessons for "beginners" as well as instructors wanting advanced training and life-saving courses. Fourteen instructors will supervise the program at Liberty park, North Lake park and probably Westbrook Country club in Mansfield and the pool in Shelby

SURVEY IN SCHOOLS

Impetus has been given to the summer planning here by a recent survey made by Coron in eight Mansfield schools—John Simpson, Bowman, Johnny Appleseed, Carpenter, St Peter's parochial, Rebecca Grubaugh, Brinkerhoff and Hedges

"We found that 75 per cent of the pupils in the first nine grades cannot swim," Coron reported." That is a higher figure even than the national Red Cross statistics."

"We found that only 15 per cent swim a little and 10 per cent are only fair swimmers. Our survey covered approximately 4,000 pupils

IMPERATIVE TO TEACH

"In the light of this survey, it seems almost imperative that we teach Mansfield and Richland county children how to swim. That we can do in ten lessons or about 10 to 15 hours of instruction.

"Children want to swim but many of them just have never had the opportunity to learn. We found that 95 per cent of the children questioned wanted to learn. Our classes will be free."

Coron said that 1,000 children can be accommodated at the city pools and that the Red Cross hoped to have that many register for the summer months. Further information may be obtained by calling 1494-6 after 9 a. m.
